

Contents

c Curriculum design and development

6 Developing and implementing a knowledge-rich curriculum for the early years
Michiel Wils, Maxime Bultheel, Tim Surma, Jasper Nijlunsing, Claudio Vanhees and Paul A Kirschner

8 Embedding structured oracy in the primary curriculum
Lauren Kearney

12 Curriculum design at Key Stage 3: Supporting primary to secondary school transition
Victoria Cook

15 An evidence-based framework to develop STEM delivery in schools
Alison Rouncefield-Stuaes, Georgie Lott and Lydia Searle

19 Walking the talk: Reflective practice in developing an inclusive and balanced professional learning curriculum
Heather Pennington and Alyson Lewis

23 Rethinking curriculum
Emily Ranken, Alice Bradbury, Dominic Wyse and Yana Manyukhina

b Balancing breadth and depth

26 From play to progress: How continuous provision in Key Stage 1 creates pathways to success for every learner
Emma Lewry and Ellen Parker

29 The double helix of reading and writing: A new theory of teaching being taken up in practice and policy
Dominic Wyse and Charlotte Hacking

33 Orchestrating the future: Why the arts belong at the heart of a broad curriculum
James Clements

36 Bedfont Baccalaureate: Implementing a new approach to primary curriculum design
Stephen Crinall

38 Finding room for creativity and authenticity in the MFL classroom
Juliette Claro and Charlotte Ryland

41 How long is a piece of string? Balancing a broad and varied curriculum in teacher and leader professional development
Kyle Bailey, Pete Gandon and Adele Fletcher

r Raising aspirations

44 Specialist arts teachers make a difference
Pat Thomson and Christine Hall

48 Women and girls in a coherent curriculum
Charlie Cutler and Beth Walker

52 Empowering every learner: Adapting a knowledge-rich curriculum for students with a range of needs
Kasia Glinka and Rebecca Ryman

54 'Future-proofing' pupils: The role of a broad and varied curriculum in building skills for life
James Leigh

56 Climate change education: A review of some current approaches and opportunities for developing its role in the curriculum
Gemma Gilvin

i Inclusive and holistic approaches

59 Using multi-sensory drama to promote social and emotional learning in young people with SEND Farzana Chowdhury

63 Indigenous modes of learning in education: Developing alternative pedagogies in extended learning
Khadeeja Batool

66 It's alternative provision, not lesser provision: A critical reflection on the English curriculum for students in alternative provision
Stephanie Povey

68 Beyond the tick box: Diversity in the curriculum
Louisa Davies

70 It's hard to be what you cannot see: Subjectification and inclusion within the languages curriculum
Karen Hanrahan and Hannah Ventisei