

Historical Association
The voice for history

Re-examining history Edition
Issue 168 / September 2017

TEACHING HISTORY

in this issue

REGULARS

EDITORIAL 02

HA SECONDARY NEWS 03

HA UPDATE 04
Curriculum planning questions

NEW, NOVICE OR NERVOUS? 46

POLYCHRONICON 56
Aaron Watts

MOVE ME ON 68

MUMMY, MUMMY... 72

ARTICLES

08 MATT STANFORD
Designing end-of-year exams: trials and tribulations

16 RICHARD KERRIDGE
Learning without limits: how not to leave some learners with a thin gruel of a curriculum

24 JAMES EDWARD CARROLL
From 'double vision' to panorama: using history of memory to bridge 'event space' when exploring interpretations of Nazi popularity with Year 13

37 ANNA DICKSON
Managing the scope of study: is it as easy as Key Stage 3?

48 ANNA AIKEN
An accessible, structured approach for building the intuitive habit of evidential thinking before the examination years

58 STEVE ILLINGWORTH AND EMMA MANNERS
Using sites for insights: how historical locations can help teachers and students with the new history GCSE